

Dennis Tredgett, Clerk

I was born in Hensall in 1948 at my grandmother's home Rose Cottage, now demolished, behind the old blacksmith yard. The family then moved to 5 Gowdall Road where the Weeland Bungalows now stand. When these cottages were condemned in 1960 we moved to Dene Close.

I attended Hensall, Snaith and Goole Grammar Schools where sport was my main passion. Despite this I was successful in obtaining a place at Bradford University where I obtained a Civil Engineering degree in 1971 and then a Master's degree in Transportation Planning in 1974.

My working life was spent with a sequence of Highway Authorities including Huddersfield, Bradford, West Yorkshire, South Yorkshire and eventually Doncaster. During this period, I lived in Huddersfield and Wakefield returning to Hensall in 1983. I retired in 2003.

I became interested in the parish council and was a councillor from 1987 to 2007 when I stood down to allow new members to represent the community.

As clerk, I intend to support the council in the continued development of the village as a safe and friendly place to live
